Original Oval Office/White House Recorder
Sony TC-800B Audio Recorder

Neither the National Archives nor Records Administration (NARA) nor the Nixon Presidential Library have produced official transcriptions or made the complete audio files available online. Instead, they have left this monumental task—a task that NARA once estimated took 100 hours of staff time to transcribe 1 hour of tape—to individual researchers and scholars.

This is the most complete digitized tape collection in existence.
